THE CHARLOTTE JOURNAL.

"ETERNAL VIGILANCE IS THE PRICE OF LIBERTY," FOR "POWER IS ALWAYS STEALING FROM THE MANY TO THE PEW."

VOLUME XVII.

CHARLOTTE. N. C. JUNE 3, 1847.

NUMBER 35.

T. J. HOLTON, MITOR, PROPRIETOR & PUBLISHER.

TERMS: TO DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS if not nd in advance. THREE DOLLARS if not mit within six months; and THREE DOL-LAKE AND FIFTY CEN'S if not paid un-ni after the rapisation of the year. No paper decontinued until all arrestrages are paid, ex-cept at the option of the Editor.

divertisements inserted at One Dullar per quare, (16 lines or less, this sized type,) or the red insertion, and 25 cents for each continu-where he keeps nearly every article pertaining to acc. Court advertisements and Sheriff's Sales the business. He has now on hand a part and page. Court unvertible per cont. higher; and a deduction of page 25 per cent. higher; and a deduction of viz:

30 per cent. will be minde from the regular private in for a freeling the year. Advertisements on for a freeling the year. Brown and Louf Sugar, each time. Semi-monthly 75 cents per square Rio Coffee.

New Orleans Molasses. resed 25 per cent. higher; and a deduction of will soon have the whole of the following articles

AGENTS Cal. R. M. Cochran, Mecklenburg, N. C. Chas, W. Harris, Mill Grove, N. C.

WEEKLY ALMANAC

Thursday, 4 51 7 9 Fer. Friday, 4 51 7 9 b, Saturday, 4 50 7 10 Last 5 Sunday, 4 50 7 10 New 12	June, 1847. n. m.
Monday, 4 49 7 11 First 20 Toesday, 4 49 7 11 Full 28 Wednesday 4 40 7 11 Full 28	2 Li afta'a.

ry Goods, Hardware & Cuttery ESTABLISHMENT.

W. C. JAMES & CO. E now receiving and offer for sale, by Wholesto and retail, an extensive assort f new and well selected Foreign and Do-

Dry Goods.

selection and purchase of the stock now miley are wanted.

Tayettaville, N.C., Hay street, Rearly opposite the New Lafayette Hotel.

HOUSE AND SIGN PAINTING. IND PAPER HANGING.

J. W. RAINEY bore line of business. Having prepared with all the tools and implements neverbeen for several years engaged in it, he hopes coulting attention to merit a liberal share lance mamental, Sign, Fing & House would of PAINTING AND PAPER HANGING,

B. All letters on leasuress, directed to Conwill be attended to. Sec. 20, 1845

Permanent School. Alexandriana Academy,

durg co., N. C. 10 miles North of Churlotte

b. Wharton, Principal. ler. H. B. Cunningham, Rector.

BHE fourth Session of this Institution will mmence on the first Monday in January sader the superintendence of the above gen-The course of studies adopted is such a prepare pupils for admission to the Junior as un any of our Colleges. Its location is as cut and healthy, and as for removed from were of dissipation, se any in this section of

Terms. rding, including washing, fuel and | 86 00

Tuilion. oling, Arithmetic, English Grammar ! and Geography, per sees, of 5 months, (brs, Chamistry, Natural Philosoand Greek Languages.

to printers.

pe Foundry and Printers Fur-uishing Warehouse.

THE SUBSCRIBERS have opened a New York, where they are ready to supming Office.

Type, which are east in new moulds, from new set of materials, with deep counare warranted to be unsurpassed by any, and e sold at prices to suit the times.

sting Presses fernished, and also Steam Enthe most approved patterns. N. B. A Machinist is constantly in attendance to air Presses to do light work. Eddors of newspapers, who will hay three less as much type as their bills amount to, may above six months insertion in their pa and send their papers containing it to the COUNCROFT & OVEREND, 68 Ann St.

October 3, 1845. 52-6m Job Work Neatly Executed at this Office.

Grocery and Confectionary STORE,

Grocery and Confectionary store,

Groceries. Confectionaries Peppermint Candy, Lemon do Hearhound do Cognisc Brandy, Madeira Witte, Almond Sugar Almonda Part do Newark Cider. Mint drops, Raisine. Albany Ale. Zante Currente, Figs, Almonds, Sugar Crackets. Butter do Water do English Walnute. Filberts, Palm Note, Navy Biscuit, Macketel, No. 2, Sardines, Pecen do Young Hyson Tea, Prunes, Cordials, aperial Blick do Essences. direse. Catron, Lemons, fresh, Porter. Ginger Note, Mustard, Jara Mixed Pickles. Tamarinds, Beef Tongues, Mace, Toys for children.

He has also on hand a supply of Cloves.

Hardware and Cuttery, PILIS are a new medicine which has just an is whole combining a stock of commanding cha. rarely equalled in this country - which have uthers of the same class. These pills are compoen purchased in New York for Cash, and a sed of many ingredients, but the two principal the appointment of the committees for the is at Auction and private sale, will be sold ones are Sarsparilla and Wild Cherry, so united aprates, to merchante, families and others, that they are together; the one, through its adesteck being antirely new, and very gener, in store with other substances, purifying and puroprehends far too many articles to be men-ging, while the other is strengthening the system. to state that almost every desirable article opening; a desideratum long and eagerly sought, the list. Having that to lead off with, our found at the Establishment. the selection and purchase of the stock now. In other words, they do the work of two med-d to the public, more than a month's con- cines, and do it much better than any two we for his been expended, and no pains have know of; for they remove nothing from the sysspared to obtain every article on the best tem but the impurities; so that while they purge that will induce other men of ample means, they strengthen; and hence they cause no debiling upon whom we shall wait in succession to assected as they are with one amongst the same and are followed by no relation. It. Le store, and are followed by no relation. It. Le store and the stand best houses in the United States, and every means of procuring goods on the best blood; they not only burify without weakening it, but they from the bott they remove all nexions particles from the subscribed by any other ward in the city." Creary great influencements to those wishing the charge of the converted into floid, and thus the charge, such indicate as caused fail to satisfy.

If were in no debilitation, so there is no nature as a supplier of Goods will be constantly arrive. There is no debilitation, so there is no nature as sinkness attending the operations of this most ex-culient of medicines, which never strains or turwork in a perfectly natural manner; and hence .becription liberalls." persons taking slo not become pule and emacrated but the contrary; for while it to the property of the state of health is the certain result of their united operations.

Certificate from Sir James Clark, the eminent Eu.

place Physician.

De Le Rey's Vegetante Universal Pills," says list only needed his name to complete it. to the prosecution of his business, and have the celebrated Sir James Clark, "promises fair in. in a great " exsure, exclude the accessity of the lancet, for they prevent too much fulness of blood; by forcing from the chyle all impure matter, which would otherwise be converted into fluid, and tains all the rest; and the blood which is formed under their influence must from the nature of their prin sipal component paris, he pure and healthy. carompily executed in a superior style and only private practice I have excluded nearly every Specimens of his work other callertic in their favor; and the more I u be seen in any of the surrounding counties them, the more my confidence in their virtues is well-entiry, Union, Lincoln, Rowan, Iredall, renfirmed. They unite attrems which were heretolors considered paradoxical by the ficenty Orders for Signe will be thankfully received that is, they are a creagificating purgetree, and a compily and neatly executed and forwarded purifying tonic, hence they may at all times be administered without hizzerd, no matter how weak or debilitated the patient may be-inasenuch as their conservative properties are precisely in the ratio of their purgative effects—so that while they execute the bowels in the most thorough manner, they also strengthen and tone them."

FROM THE LIVERPOOL MERCUKY. This popular Medicine though but recently made public, has been long used by Dr. Le Roy in his own practice. It to figestum, as it powerfully influences the Stomach, single trial will prove its efficacy over other popolar temedies; and as it contains onthing dan gerous, it may be taken without medical advice, which in most cases it renders unnecessary. You all the usual diseases, as Headache, Gout, Colds, Nervous Complaints, &c., it is a certain remedy. as it cosutes a good digestion and free circulation of the blood. It is likewise peculiarly effective in correcting excess of diet, fatigue, and anxiety, and, in short, we in common with public opin exterm it the best of all FAMILY MEDICINES. Agests - Dr. Jas. F. Gilmer, Druggist, Chur-

The Communicator.

Tallis is the title of a weekly Family Newspa. Por, which will make its appearance in Pitte-toro', Chatham county, in May next. It will emtrace, intelligence of a political, literary and mis-12 00 offancous character; and will at the same time, advente the CAUSE OF TEMPERANCE. In politie, it will be arutral. The friends of Temperance who have so long been arrious for a Press to advocate the cause to bers have tready been procured to warrant this publication. The Editorial Department will be unducted bin association of able writers. The NEW TYPE FOUNDRY in the price of sub-coption is $2 per annum, in advance.

New York, where they are ready to sup-Macw York, where they are ready to sup-fillers to any extent, for any kind of JOB or CY TYPE, and every article necessary for hister of the "Communicator," by mail, as soon as convenient, the panies of their respective Associations, their obers, number of members, and all other informatic on the subject of Temperance, in their passeson, as will afford interest. LTEditors, general, will please give the above otion a few macric Pittsboro, April, 184

> Cogniac Brandy For medical purposes, sale by the bottle.
>
> April 9, 1846.
>
> T. J. HOLTON.

> Good Vingar For sale by the subscriber, Also RICE.
> 11. HOLTON. April 9, 1816.

MISCELLANEOUS.

From the Saturday Eccuing Post. TREASURE ON EARTH. TREASURE IN HEAVEN.

that met his eye was the following :

BY T. S. ARCHES.

" At the town meeting held yesterday, a committee of three from each ward was appointed to wait upon our citizens to receive paid him what was due, immediately, he The child paused suddenly, at this receptheir subscriptions in aid of the sufferers by the late destructive fire in our sister city. the unhappy woman-This duty will be entered upon at once .-We trust that the gentlemen who have the matter in charge will meet with a hearty reception from our liberal minded and benevolent townsmen. We may lead the van in this noble work if we will. Let us Over this Mr. Percival pendered for some eyes upon the ceiling. At length, as if his come quick enough." and was engaged in that agreeable occupation when the committee of gentlemen alluded to above, called in at his counting

" Good morning, Mr. Percival," said the spokesman.

"Good morning, gentlemen," responded Mr. Percival, rising.

"We need hardly state our business." said the spokesman. 'You presided at the meeting, yesterday, and having assisted in several wards, are aware that our duty in this one is to wait upon our fellow citizens for their subscriptions. We have called upon you to get your name at the head of task will be an easy one, and the result equal to our best hopes. Your subscription we of course know will be liberal, and upon whom we shall wait in succession to

" We can easily do that," returned Mr. Percival. We have wealth enough. But I must decline heading the list. Let Mr. R. lead off. He will do it bandsomely, tures the digestive functions, but causes them to without doubt. Or Mr. S. will start your

The committee men urged Mr. Percival Sarsparilla, united as it is with other togreducts, to comply with their first request, but he Sarsparilla, united as it is with other ingredients, to remove all that is foreign and impute, it is a was firm in declining; and ultimately told that he was a man.

Charles went to school with a heavy said—qually the property of the Wild Cherry to rotate them that he had made up his mind to heart. He understood, from what had been "What is the matter with you, Charles?"

"I promised your little boy that I would

A week after this interview, the rich

"How much have you got?" he asked. " We have not done as well as we expected, was replied. If you had sed off, we should no doubt have done much better." " Who headed the list?"

" Mr. R---

" With how much !"

" One hunderd dollare." " Humph ! Let me see the paper."

It was handed to the merchant. He ran his eye over it, saying, half aloud, as he did

"One handred-one hundred-one hundred-nothing above a hundred. What

"Five thousand dollars." The merchant took op his pen and wrote his name with a flourish. Opposite to it he placed a numerical and three cyphers, with the dollar mark before them, thus-$5,000. noves all forms of in- Then, with a bow, and a glow of self-satisfaction upon his face, he handed the paper fact that Benedict Percival, E-q , who was to Mr. Percival. ever foremost in acts of benevolence, had often in pain and oppressive weakness, but wards this he now directed his steps. for the many wants of her little family.

Mr. Benedict Percival, one of the wealth. bring him his due. Food and fuel the wa this. sest men in the city, sat reading a newspa. man must have for her children; after these About one o'clock, while Mr. Percival children, to the alms house, where she and per, when three gentlemen entered his were obtained, there was little or nothing left was sitting alone in his private counting- they would well be taken care of. They counting room in the formal manner in from her earnings. Thus it went on, unwhich committee men usually present them. til seven dollars were due for rent when the done for the good of his fellow men, and ines-it did more harm than good. Oth. selves—especially committee men appoint. landlord became sericusly plarmed, lest, in pondering that significant passage of Holy ers gave her small sums, such as quarter ed to raise a subscription for some public a last resort, which was often made by him Writ—" Charity covers a multitude of and half dollars—and one poor widow put selves-especially committee men appoint. landlord became sericusly alarmed, lest, in When Mr. Percival opened his at little or no cost of feeling, there should sins "-a lad entered with a timed look and in a dollar from her little store. Those newspaper that moroing the first paragraph not be enough in the widow's two rooms a hesitating step.

that met his eye was the following:

that the law would allow him to seize, for "Well, sir! What do you want?" said pust nine o'clock before the sum needed was once informed the widow, that unless she contracting his brows as he spoke.

would sell her out.

"Go and porrow it from some one." The widow shook her head.

"You do sewing for several families .you enough money to pay your rent. It you lend it to her, sir ?" will be but a dollar a piece from different

"I have no hope of returning it; and, to action in the matter were definitely settled, borrow under such circumstances, would be begging. If your mother isn't able to pay well. While the young girl burried by in dishonest."

rent," said the petty landford, harshly.

The widow answered nothing. done. So you know what you have to do emptory voice, pend upon. the widow was left to her own sad thoughts. over ngain." The oldest of her children was a boy be. three years old. The public schools afford-ing one's name up as a benevolent man." idly, and in a few months she hoped to see line that he was a man.

place his name last upon the subscription said, clearly, the extremity in which his You appear to be unhappy." next day, unless the rent was paid, for could not utter a word. more than one distraint had taken place, at the instance of this man, within the past teacher. year, and helpless widows and children stripped of their all without compunction, heart was heavy.

At school, there was a good deal of talk something was wrong at home. tion that had been raised for the sufferers by the terrible fire in a western city, the nevolent men in the country.

Two or three days after this, the news. thought made his young heart beat quicker his tears flowed again. papers appounded the result of the subscript and his cheek to burn. Until dinner time, "But the man certainly will not do as tion raised in the various wards in the city. he pondered this over, his mind feeling he has threatened," said the teacher. The particular instances of liberality were more confident each moment, that relief "Oh, yes he will," replied Charles.

sand dollars; had in fact, just doubled the mother was full of distress. Though the will do it." subscription of the ward in which he rest boy tried to eat when he sat down to dinner, he could with difficulty swallow his food, owe?" There hved in the city where this fact He left the table in a few minutes, and, occurred, a poor widow, in feeble health, without speaking a word, took up his hat who had three children. Her only means and hurried from the room. Before leav of subsistence lay in her ability to do sew on school, he had inquired of the boys the required, how gladly would she have placed red with them. What a harmonious band of subsistence lay in her ability to do sew ing school, he had inquired of the boys the which toy have so warmly address, can now be of substitute faced of heroes accommonded, as a sufficient number of substitute. Early and late she sat over her work; direction of Mr. Percival's store, and toliberality, united, as it was, with high en It was in the midst of a long and hard comiums upon him as "one of our wealthwinter, and the widow's greater expense for jest and most benevolent citizens," was warm clothing for her children, and extra particularly gratifying to Benedict Perci. and tell your mother that I will come and fuel, consumed all of her little earnings, val, Esq. He read the various paragraphs see her to night. Something must be done thus leaving nothing for the rent. She oc- that met his eyes with the liveliest satisfac to prevent this man from distressing her." cupied two small rooms in a retired court, tion; and enjoyed a higher degree of self for which she paid a weekly rent of one complacency than he had known for a long way. His step was much lighter than it think it very likely that the people of the dollar. She was the under tenant of a man time. It was especially agreeable to him was when he came to school, for there was United States in will 1848 do what the who rented all the houses on one side of the to find the largest subscription made by any hope again in his young heart. court, and by letting them out again to poor one except himself, was only five hundred The night that succeeded to this day was run General Taylor. tions he received for being the possessor of the school, and the other her own contri- last. - North American.

Since the Fall, the poor widow had been such charitable feelings, united with the button, set forth on the errand of mercy slow about paying her rent. Sometimes means of gratifying them to the fullest ex she had proposed to herself, which was to she had only a quarter of a dollar to give lient. It was a happy day for Mr. Perci- obtain, from such persons as she knew, and her importune landlord; and sometimes she val. Verily, he had his reward in the felt free to call upon, a sum sufficient to pay could give him nothing. He had scolded, praise of men. How much treasure was the poor widow's rent. One or two apon and threatened, and warned her to leave laid up in Heaven by the act, we cannot whom she called, declined giving any thing, the premises; but still it availed not to say-we have no means of determining saying that if the woman was not able to the liquidation of his petty claim. He at the merchant, in rather a forbidding tone, made up.

"But you know I cannot do that," said dently expected, and looked half frighten- bending in the fierce gusts of wind and fidence and told his errand thus,-

Go to them and tell them that you will be things and turn all of us into the street, the act that had for some time engross. formed into the street if they do not lend She only owes him seven dollars. Won't ed most of his thoughts, more than half in-time, with his forefrager upon his lip and his individuals. Do it, and the money will really astonished at his assurance, and cipient state of repentance for having thrown then said-

"It is just as dishonest not to pay your alms house, where you will be taken care rich reward that true benevolence is sure

"You can do as you please, resumed the took the lad somewhat rudely by the arm, charity, no matter how munificent, done for unfeeling man. But I can tell you one leading him to the door of the room in the praise of men. thing-if I dont get my rent to-morrow, I which he had been sitting, thrust him into Usually, Charles retired early; but this shall obtain it in the quickest possible way, the one adjoining, through which he had evening he sat up, hopefully awaiting the and let these rooms to some one who will come, where were several clerks; saying coming of the teacher. Since seveno clock, pay a great deal better than you have ever to the latter, as he did so, in a rough, per he had eagerly listened to the sound of ev-

With this the landlerd went away, and You know I have forbidden this over and pointment.

ed the meens of education to these children; When Charles came to school that after and it was the mother's aim to keep them noon, his teacher noticed that he had been swered, every time his mother urged him together as long as possible, that they weeping, and that he seemed to be in a to go to bed. might enjoy the advantages so liberally good deal of distress. But, though he provided for the poor as well as the rich. asked him as to the cause, the lad did not o'clock. The wind roared without, and the Charles, her son, was advancing very ra- reply directly to his questions. Several snow rushed against the windows. The him in the high school, where she meant ticed that Charles wiped the tears from his about repeating her request that Charles to strive hard to keep him for at least a two eyes, and that his mind was so much dis- would go to bed, when she observed that year's course, before he left home to learn turbed that he could not say his lessons .- he had fullen asleep in his chair. Her some trade or to go in some store. This He mentioned this to his female assistant, heart was touched as she looked at the unlad was present during the brief interview As Charles was leaving the school room to conscious boy, and thought of the share in that passed between his mother and her go home, on the dismissal of his class, this her troubles that he had voluntarily assumland ord. His young blood grew hot in his young lady, who had observed him fre. ed. While her eyes still rested upon him, veins, and he wished, for his mother's sake, quently since her attention had been called there came a low rap at the door. On when, took him kindly by the hand and opening it a young and slender girl stepped that the threat of seizing upon their things face. His eyes were full of tears, and his roundsconer. Heaven has sent you, through and selling them, would be executed on the lips quivered. He tried to speak, but he me, enough money to pay your rent to more and turned into the streets. Young as the quite young, stood silent a moment. She away. Good night. Charles, I see, has child was, he had been eye witness to such knew that the mother of the boy was poor; fallen asleep, but he will know I have been scenes of distress. No wonder that his and from the peculiar way in which he was here. Good night!"

" No ma'am," the lad faintly replied.

among the boys about the large subscrip | "Is anything the matter at home that you would like to tell ?" she asked.

amount of which had been published in the left the room, and the teacher and the lad ted, in giving five thousand dollars for the morning papers. The fact that Mr. Per- stood quite alone. The tears that had benefit of those who had suffered by the cival, the rich merchant, had given five been blinding the latter ever since his fire, when one thousand would have told thousand dollars, was particularly dwell teacher had spoken to him, now fell over quite as well upon the public. Moth and upon. His praise was upon all lips; and his cheeks freely. But, in a little while, dust were already beginning to corrupt the he was spoken of as one of the most be he was able to restrain them, when he told treasure he had laid up on earth. of the distress his mother was in, and how, Suddenly it flashed through the mind of if the rent was not paid in the morning, her pressed its pillow long, before all her senses the lad that if Mr. Percival was so rich things would all be taken away from her were locked in gentle slumbar. Same back to the gentlemen who had waited upon and benevolent as to be able and willing to and they turned out of doors. He also re. give five thousand dollars for the relief of lated, in a most earnest and artless manner, Nobly done, Mr. Percival," said the suffering in another city, he would be will- how he had called upon Mr. Percival, withspokes man. You have saved the credit of ing to lend or give his mother seven dollars out saying anything to his mother, hoping was happy. She had laid up treasure in our ward. I have strong hopes, now, that to prevent her little all from being taken that he would lend them money to pay we shall lead any two of them put togeth. from her, and she and her children turned, their rent. When he told of the cruel and into the street in the dead of winter. The unexpected repulse with which he had met, named, conspicuous among which stood the would be obtained if application were made "He sold every thing Mrs. Ellis had this winter, because she didn't pay him his rent; When Charles came home from school, and she had to take little George and Mary subscribed the handsome sum of five thouse after the morning session, the face of his and go to the poor house. Oh, yes |-he home with glad tidings to his mother! the result of her labor was ever insufficient. The public announcement of his great But it took all of her salary to support a widowed mother, in bad health, and she had there ore nothing to spare.

> "How much rent does your mother " Seven dollars."

" Go home, Charles, she at length said,

The boy turned and walked quickly a families, at a weekly or monthly rent, not dollars, and that this sum was subscribed very cold. The wind swept round to the only saved his own rent, but made from two by a merchant who was reputed to be north-east towards evening, and brought a how much others were injured in his efforts joyed. Numerous were the congratula- pocket, one received from the principal of ran away, the wooden one was firm to the pay her rent, she had better go, with her room, thinking pleasantly of what he had disapproved, from principle, of private charwho were most able gave the least. It was

With a light heart, the noble minded young girl started for the humble abode of tion, so different from what he had evi- the distressed widow. On her way thither, ed. But he gathered up his scattered con- snow, she passed the splendid dwelling of Benedict Percival, Esq., the benevolent "My mother has got no money to pay merchant. He sat in his luxurious parlor her rent, and the man is going to sell her with his family around him, musing upon clined to think that the public did not fully Mr. Percival looked at the lad a moment, appreciate what he had done, and in an insuch a large sum of money away, when a "Begone, sir. I never encourage street thousand dollars would have done just as her rent, she had better take you all to the the storm, her heart already receiving the to bring-a reward incomparably greater Saying this, the benevolent merchant than what comes as the result of deeds of ery approaching footstep, and often had his "Don't let any more beggers in here .- young heart grown almost sick with disap-

"Hadn't you better go to bed, Charles, " I shall be overrun by all the medicants said his mother, long before nine o'clock. tween eleven and twelve years of age. - in town," muttered Mr. Percival to himself, It is too stormy a night for your teacher to The other two were girls; the youngest as he resumed his seat. So much for have come out. I am sure she will not be here." "Oh, yes, she will I know she will come," replied the boy. Am thus he an-

Time had stolen on, until it was near ten es during the afternion the teacher no. widow looked up from her work, and was call and see you to-night. I thought to mother was placed. And he also knew The lad paused and looked up into her have been here earlier, but couldn't get row. Here it is. She handed the widow "Is any one sick at home " asked the a small package of money. It comes from those who have hearts to feel for others."

"It is late, and I must harry home .--The young girl, for the teacher was Mother will be uneasy at my staying so long distressed, she immediately suspected that And ere the widow could utter a word of thanks she was away.

That night, Mr. Benedict Percival lay awake for hours, unable to sleep for think-By this time most of the children had ing of the error he had doubtless commit-

The head of the young teacher had not and when the sun smiled in at her windows in the morning, she blessed the day and Heaven.

UNITED STATES MINT.

The coinage of the Mint and branch mints for the month of April last, was $2,-676,329, being, as the Director states in his accompanying letter of the 17th, "the largest that has yet been reported for any one month." Of this amount there is in gold $2,382,697; silver $291,600, and in copper $2,031.

EXTRAORDINARY UNANIMITY.

Santa Anna says, that in the council convoked after the battle of the 23d Feb-The young teacher was again silent and ruary, all his officers were perfectly unan-

> Several wealthy gentlemen in Boston, have determined to purchase the highly trained horse " Bucephalus," belonging to Sands, Lent & Co., and present him to Gen. Taylor.

> > GOOD.

The Louisville Journal says: "We Mexicans have vainly attempted to do-

The result of the battle of Cerro Gordo to theee hundred dollars a year besides - worth several hundred thousand dollars heavy snow storm, that thinned the streets has shown how much more reliable in Of course, he was a hard man, and would more than himself. Here was a triumph of passengers. After an early tea, the time of war are wooden legs than flesh and have nothing less than his own, no matter not often to be had; and it was richly en young teacher, with two dollars in her blood ones. While Santa Anna's live leg